

New MD Chris Cotterell to spearhead Finalto Australia growth

Finalto is excited to announce the appointment of Chris Cotterell as Finalto Australia Managing Director. Chris will be responsible for expanding Finalto's presence throughout Australia.

Prior to his new appointment, Chris served as Risk Manager at Finalto's London HQ. His work helped streamline and update Finalto's risk management processes, enabling them to provide world-class services and mitigate risk across all key areas of their business. His strategic direction and client focus over the past 4 years has had a significant impact on the growth of Finalto.

"As an Aussie having moved to the UK nearly 20 years ago, I am excited to be heading back home to help grow the Finalto brand and our amazing product portfolio."

Chris holds over two decades worth of financial experience and has held managerial positions in Operations, Sales and Risk. He brings with him specialist FX and CFD market knowledge and a deep understanding of what clients need from their liquidity and technology provider. Chris will play a pivotal role in servicing our institutional clients as we expand our offering across the APAC region.
